In my living room, there are many things: a rug, a sofa, and a mirror. But my favorite thing is a photograph in a blue frame. It's on my bookshelf, and it's a window to a happy memory.

The picture is of my family at the beach. In the photo, the sky is bright blue and the sand is golden. We're all laughing and playing. Our smiles are big and genuine.

The man in the blue shorts is my father. He's very tall. The woman next to him is my mother. Her hair is long and beautiful in the picture. The little boy in the picture is my brother. He's very happy.

And the girl with the big smile? That's me!

This photo is more than just paper. It's a reminder that we're a team. We're not a perfect family, but we are a happy one.
