IRREGULAR VERBS - GROUP 8

stand	stood	stood
understand	understood	understood
misunderstand	misunderstood	misunderstood
withstand	withstood	withstood

STAND: Store employees often stand for long hours without a break.

STOOD: Emma stood behind the counter all day yesterday.

STOOD: She has stood from morning until evening all week.

UNDERSTAND: Daniel doesn't fully understand the new system yet.

UNDERSTOOD: He understood it better after his manager gave him examples.

UNDERSTOOD: Daniel has understood more each day with practice.

MISUNDERSTAND: Students sometimes misunderstand the assignment.

MISUNDERSTOOD: Emily misunderstood what the teacher wanted in the essay.

MISUNDERSTOOD: She has misunderstood several instructions this semester.

WITHSTAND: Modern buildings can withstand strong earthquakes.

WITHSTOOD: That structure withstood a major quake two years ago.

WITHSTOOD: It has withstood several aftershocks since then.

Notes:

IRREGULAR VERBS - GROUP 9

hold	held	held
uphold	upheld	upheld
withhold	withheld	withheld

HOLD: Sam always holds the door for others.

HELD: He held it open this morning while five people walked in.

HELD: Sam has held the door every day this week without fail.

UPHOLD: Judges must uphold the law in every decision they make.

UPHELD: The judge upheld the new policy despite public pressure.

UPHELD: She has upheld the same values throughout her entire career.

WITHHOLD: Some companies withhold important updates from their staff.

WITHHELD: That company withheld details about the changes until the last minute.

WITHHELD: It has withheld similar information in the past.

Notes:

IRREGULAR VERBS - GROUP 10

sell	sold	sold
resell	resold	resold
tell	told	told
retell	retold	retold

SELL: Chloe sells handmade clothes through her online store.

SOLD: She sold twenty items last weekend.

SOLD: Chloe has sold over a hundred pieces this month.

RESELL: Liam likes to resell concert tickets when demand is high.

RESOLD: He resold two front-row tickets last night.

RESOLD: Liam has resold several tickets this month alone.

TELL: Ava never tells her secrets to just anyone.

TOLD: She told her best friend something very personal yesterday.

TOLD: Ava has told her many private things over the years.

RETELL: Leo loves to retell the same joke at every family dinner.

RETOLD: He retold it last night and still made everyone laugh.

RETOLD: Leo has retold that story at least ten times this month.

Notes: